

ABSTRACT

The present invention is directed to fluticasone compositions comprising fluticasone and at least one surface stabilizer. The fluticasone particles of the composition preferably have an effective average particle size of less than about 2000 nm.